

Thursday, November 4, 2021:
11:15 am until 12:00 pm; Virtual/Rm 303

Jason Walsh
Class of 1991
Cyber Security

Director of Intelligence Customer
Operations: CrowdStrike

Jason Walsh is a 25-year cyber threat intelligence professional. He currently serves as the Director of Intelligence Customer Operations at CrowdStrike. He directs a global team of cyber threat intelligence analysts in support of US government and private sector clients seeking to manage risk associated with Cyber threats and emerging technologies. Jason led the development of several intelligence subscriptions at CrowdStrike leading to over $5 million in new revenue.

Jason leads a team of analysts supporting the cyber threat intelligence needs of Fortune 500 and mid-sized businesses. He has previously performed in a variety of intelligence roles throughout government, most recently at the National Air and Space Intelligence Center (NASIC) serving as the NASIC Cyber Mission Manager. He has led teams conducting collection management, analysis, and operational assignments. These have included support to U.S. Air Force acquisition programs, Asia-Pacific operations and planning.

Jason received a Bachelor of Science in Information Technology and a Graduate Certificate in Applied Intelligence from Mercyhurst University. He is a Class of 1991 graduate of Carroll High School. Jason also serves as the head boys lacrosse coach at Carroll where he helped found the program in 2015.