Kevin Kramer Class of 1995

Kevin Kramer is a television writer and producer, as well as a script consultant and freelance writer.

Kevin grew up outside of Xenia, spending most of his days raising chickens and exploring the many woods and creeks surrounding his home.

After graduating from Carroll High School in 1995, Kevin attended the film school at Wright State University, earning a BFA in Motion Picture Production. For two years, he was an Artist-in-Residence for the Ohio Arts Council, teaching children the art of filmmaking.

In 2003, Kevin moved to Los Angeles and worked a handful of odd jobs for a number of studios, including NBC/Universal, Amblin, Bravo, and others. In 2006, he landed his first professional writing gig on the Cartoon Network animated series, Chowder, subsequently earning his first Emmy nomination. Since then, he has worked on a variety of series including Harvey Beaks (for which he earned his second Emmy nomination), Little Big Awesome, Be Cool Scooby-Doo, Wacky Races, and New Looney Tunes. Most recently, he was the Story Editor for Archibald's Next Big Thing. He is now in development on two animated projects, one of which is currently being pitched.

Kevin resides in Burbank, California with his two sons, Myles and Jack.
