Dr. Sunny Vu is currently practicing as a Certified Registered Nurse Anesthesiologist at Midwest Anesthesia Associates in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

After receiving her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Kettering College in 2015, Sunny became a Surgical Intensive Care Unit nurse at the Cleveland Clinic. She worked there 1.5 years before going back to school for her Doctorate in Management Practice in Nurse Anesthesia at Marshall University.

Sunny has community service experience on a Trinidad and Tobago Medical Mission Trip where she offered counseling to individuals regarding management of Type II Diabetes and hypertension, provided cholesterol and glucose screenings to identify at-risk populations, and educated school-age children on the importance of diet and exercise. She also volunteered for the Victor Cassano Health Center where she developed a survey to increase patient vaccination compliance and compiled vaccination data to review trends among underserved populations. Sunny also helped escort patients and family members at Dayton Children's Medical Center.

Her honors include the Cleveland Clinic Caregiver Award in 2016 and the BSN-P Cohort Leadership Award in 2015. She was also on the Dean's List at Kettering College and Wright State University and received several scholarships towards her education.

One of Sunny's favorite memories at Carroll High School was leading the PATS retreat during her senior year. It was a phenomenal experience to be able to grow with her classmates and it helped her develop a solid foundation of leadership skills.
