Reflexology is a holistic body work technique in which the practitioner uses her fingers and thumbs, in a prescribed manner, to work reflex points on the hands, feet or head which are mapped to the organs, glands and other body systems. The feet and hands are like a roadmap to the body's stressors. As a Certified Clinical Reflexologist, I enjoy witnessing the health benefits of reflexology. Executing this holistic body-work technique is exciting, energizing and fulfilling. It has heightened my appreciation for holistic methods as a complement to conventional medicine.
